

Christmas 2023 Newsletter

Season's greetings!

Here we are at the end of another exciting year of 'musicians, musicals and music classes' for Test Of Time Entertainment and, following a busy festive season, we are now getting ready for a fun-filled 2024!

Last year I didn't quite get around to putting together an end of year newsletter, as I was busy enjoying my first Christmas as a mummy... So here's a quick little update on what's been happening over the past two years!

T.O.T.E. had a rest for a few months in 2022, whilst I was on maternity leave. Then, in the autumn, we got back to running our online lessons and workshops, providing music, drama and academic tuition for students aged 6-18 across the country. We've seen pupils through their GCSES, A-Levels, music exams, online performances and secondary school entrance exams, and continue to fully embrace online learning, as well as providing in-person classes across London. Supplying these classes now forms a significant portion of T.O.T.E.'s business, which I am very proud of! If you know someone looking to begin a new hobby, or requiring support, either academic or musical, please don't hesitate to get in touch with us today.

One of the most exciting developments for T.O.T.E. in 2023 was the addition of an array of fabulous new acts to our books! One I am particularly thrilled about is the brilliant Mimi, an exceptional jazz and vintage vocalist who is taking the London restaurant, hotel and bar scene by storm with her wonderful vocals and exceptional stage presence. She performs both as a solo artist and with her band, made up of some of the UK's greatest musicians. Check out her demos at our website, www.testoftimeentertainment.co.uk.

As is the case with so many entertainment providers, the holiday season is always an exciting time. In particular, T.O.T.E. have had the great pleasure of providing some fabulous a cappella acts to festive events across London this year. Here are 'The Tinsel Troupe', ready to perform under the Christmas tree at Leadenhall Market in early December. Check out our 2023 Christmas entertainment brochure here, which may give you some ideas for next year. It's never too early!

Talking of a cappella, our most recent project is the launch of Enchord, a fabulous musical theatre-focussed a cappella group, made up of incredible West End and award-winning vocalists. Their debut single, Will Geraint Drake's arrangement of 'Defying Gravity', from 'Wicked', is now out on all streaming platforms. You can listen to Enchord here, follow them on Insta @enchord.acappella and book them for your event by getting in touch today!

Things have been a little quiet on the theatrical front for T.O.T.E. Last year, 'Reunited', a musical I created with writer/director Will Maynard, about a millennial school reunion gone wrong, was presented to an invited audience at Jermyn Street Theatre. This featured a superb cast, including West End stars Anoushka Lucas and Jocasta Almgill. Songs from the show have also been showcased at the Musical Theatre Network's open mic nights. We hope the piece will be developed further in 2024, alongside some other new writing projects.

In some final news, I am expecting baby number two in February, so T.O.T.E will be a bit quiet again for the first half of 2024. But please do still come to us for all your entertainment needs and our entertainment assistant will get back to you! DM us on Instagram @testoftime_entertainment, give us a call on 07828 771724, or drop us an email at info@testoftimeentertainment.co.uk.

Thank you for your continued support, HAPPY HOLIDAYS and see you next year!
