In the information below, Test Of Time Entertainment aims to make clear how your personal data is used and stored in line with GDPR. Please do get in touch if you have any questions or concerns.

This policy has been developed to help both Test Of Time Entertainment's clients and acts feel confident about the privacy and security of the personal information you provide when using any of our services.

Test Of Time Entertainment collects the following personal data:

- Basic contact details: name, email address, telephone number, postal address and any specific organisational details required to process an entertainment or booking request, including details of the event occasion and location. Within this information some additional personal details could also be inferred, including a client's religion or place of work. All the above data is collected entirely via email, over the telephone or through the contact boxes available at www.testoftimeentertainment.co.uk
- Act payment details: As well as the above, Test Of Time Entertainment also requires acts to provide their bank details so that payments can be processed for our services. These are stored only within the invoices you send via email (filed safely online) and within our online banking system.

Your personal data is used for the following purposes:

Test of Time Entertainment Privacy Policy

- to communicate with you ahead of, and directly after, an event or booking
- to provide you with any relevant news and opportunities with regards to the services and work you have expressed an interest in
- to provide customer support

Any personal data will be retained for as long as it is necessary to provide you with information on the services you have either requested or supply. Your contact details will be held unless you notify Test Of Time Entertainment that you no longer wish for your details to be used and stored. As a very small company, driven by strong working relationships, there is no one-size-fits-all time limit on how long it is appropriate to hold on to contact details, but this is reviewed regularly.

You can unsubscribe from occasional emails at any time by emailing info@testoftimeentertainment.co.uk

Client's Email Addresses

Test Of Time Entertainment respects the privacy of your personal information, does not use a generic mailing list and will not send junk mail. Occasionally, personal emails may be sent to see if, following a previous booking, you require entertainment for any upcoming events. This will be in-line with the working relationship previously developed. If you do not wish to be contacted in this way, please email info@testoftimeentertainment.co.uk and your details will be removed from the database.

Your details will not be passed on to any organisation beyond Test Of Time Entertainment without your explicit permission and understanding. This does not, however, include the acts/entertainers/musicians that you may hire for an event, who will be provided with only the relevant contact and event details at the time of the event.
